Work got underway today on the new Southern Bell dial building when Mayor John Scafide turned the first shovelful of dirt at the corner of St. Francis and St. John Streets. Those attending the ground breaking ceremonies included City Commissioners W. E. Traub and J. C. Glover, City Attorney Dan Russell, Jr., secretary of Chamber of Commerce Mrs. Mabel Green, Sea- Coast editor Jim Pfeiffer, Southern Bell Traffic manager J. A. O'Connell, Building Contractor, C. G. Blood Bank Seeking Funds

A meeting was called Friday night, by George Heitzmann, recently elected chairman of the Hancock County Blood Bank, Members of the Board, and actively interested persons who have assisted in the work of the blood bank were present.

As of Friday night, 102 pints of blood were in storage at the Foundation Hospital, New Orleans, credited to the Hancock County Bank. This was from the recent drawing.

Since its reorganization some four years ago, the bank has been operating solely on funds provided by the Hancock County Board of Supervisors, in a grant of $1,000. The money has been used to purchase equipment, serum and to pay for services of a technician. The original fund has diminished, with a balance on hand of $149.75. New serum must be purchased prior to another blood drawing, scheduled for the early fall. It is the plan of the chairman and members of the board of the bank to appeal to the Board of Supervisors at their August meeting, to seek another grant for continued operations.

The blood bank has supplied a total of 435 pints of blood from storage, and an unlimited supply from the Walking Bank, in which more than 500 residents of the County are typed, and may be called on when, and if, their particular type of blood is needed.

The blood bank has proved a means of saving lives of residents of this county. No request for blood for any person needing it has been turned down, regardless of financial status. In many other localities, persons requiring plasma and transfusions if financially able, are required to purchase blood from hospitals. Here no inquiry is made as to such status. If blood is needed, given. In a great number of instances, there have been no replacements of this blood by members of the families or friends. The Blood Bank asks only for equal replacements, pint for pint, if it can be given. Red Cross requires two for one, in replacements. When the next drawing comes around, it is requested of those persons who have received blood, to do their best to get replacements for the sake of others, who in the future may need this blood to save their lives.

According to records, the persons who have donated blood, have seldom ever requested blood. Time after time, the same donors appear, ready to give from their life stream, the valuable fluid, so necessary to save another life, if and when needed.

This column extends sincere sympathy to Mrs. Ruth Ketchum and Clara Lee and family, due to the sudden passing on of Robert Kirsch of New Orleans. Mr. Kirsch was Mrs. Ketchum's brother and well known in New Orleans.

In looking through a copy of the Murray Hill News which is a monthly newspaper for residents and business people in the heart of New York, this reporter ran across this interesting bit of information reprinted there from the Falmouth, Mass. Enterprise. Since we are a water loving, boat loving group along the Gulf Coast, I thought you might enjoy it, too.

Why is a Ship a She? At a party not so long ago, I raised the question of why everyone invariably refers to a boat as a "she." Here are some of the reasons the group came up with:

"A boat is called a she because there's always a great deal of bustle around her... because there's usually a gang of men around... because she has a waist and stays... because she takes a lot of paint to keep her looking good... because it's not the initial expense that breaks you, it's the upkeep... because she's all decked out... because it takes a good man to handle her right... because she shows her topsides, hides her bottom and, when coming into port, always heads for the buoys."

Mrs. Crawford was the former Ruth Mildred Griffin.

WAVE DAUGHTER

Mr. and Mrs. Oren Joseph Cuevas (nee Helen Strahan) announce the birth of a daughter, Elizabeth Ann, weight 9 lbs., 9 1/2 ozs. at King's Daughters Hospital, July 28, 1956.

ATTEND BIRTHDAY PARTY

Little Miss Katherine (Kathy) June Haggerty, four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dan B. Haggerty, motored to New Orleans with her grandmother, Mrs. L. S. Elliott, to attend the birthday party of her cousin, Joan E. Haggerty (Johnnie) Hoffman on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Haggerty and nine children spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Elliott. Other members of the family were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond G. Hoffman and three children, Joan, Raymond and Virginia Ann, who spent the weekend.

ENTERTAIN AT LUNCHEON

The charming party was given at the Kirkpatrick home on South Beach Blvd.

White, green and silver were colors used in the decorations of luncheon table and floral arrangements throughout the home.

Butterfly-lilies were massed in attractive displays in the reception rooms, while the luncheon table was laid with an exquisite imported cloth, silver service and a rare species of imported white lilies artistically arranged formed a beautiful centerpiece.

Miss Cox and her mother, Mrs. L. M. Cox, Sr., were back presented coronas of white ruffled carnations.

Twenty-four close friends of the honoree were invited.

PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

fort and worship of God are closely akin, and modern comforts, such as floor carpeting, and airconditioning are part of the current installations.

Dr. Walter Russo and Mrs. Norman Renshaw, two very active members have been kind in supplying us with information relative to the progress of this fine group of people determined to have their own established House of Worship. Both told us that much help had come from Elders of the Church of Gulfport, who gave their time to come to Bay St. Louis to conduct volunary services. Reverend Edward Morron, Poplarville, is regarded as Pastor. He alternates Sundays with his Poplarville Parish. On the Sundays when he is in his home parish, services here are conducted by an Elder from Gulfport. It was through these men, that the growth and building program advanced so rapidly here.

A real treat was given the congregation two Sundays ago, when Lane Adams, son of Commander and Mrs. J. B. Adams, was conducted the service, delivered an inspired sermon and pleased the congregation by singing. His fine and well trained voice were a revelation and inspiration to those attending the service.

Dr. Russo further advised us, that all protestant churches of Bay St. Louis had been more than kind in lending aid to their project.

Sunday school classes are conducted by Dr. Russo, who was also as Superintendent and Mrs. Earl Gates of Waveland, teachers. Miss Temple Perkins, is faithfully serving as pianist.

Until several months ago, the congregation numbered about ten regular members. Today it averages forty or better and during the vacation season, there are many visitors each Sunday.

The church is still a Mission, supported in part by the Presbytery, but the aim of the membership is to become a permanent self supporting church, in the very near future.

Knowing the value of social contact with members of the congregation, a Fellowship supper was held last Sunday, at the charming country home of Mr. and Mrs. Al Volck. Mrs. Volck is a member of the congregation. The supper was in the form of a covered dish event, with members bringing substantial treats in gaily covered dishes, and general partaking of the many dishes by the entire group. Between seventy and eighty persons were present.

Officers who administer the business of the church are C. L. Reab, Chairman; T. T. Rabouli, Jr., and Camille Schaeffer, Secretary.

Bridey Murphy, A Big Disappointment

A Special Report on "The Search For Bridey Murphy"

THOSE SEARCHING FOR Bridey Murphy have the help of a best-selling book, a popular song and a forthcoming movie. But some are asking whether the search is worth the trouble.

Scientists question the experiments. Would a good scientist, they wonder, ask leading questions, the kind that tell you the answer? Author-hypnotist Bernstein did this often. Again, he good scientists publish their findings before all the facts are in? Bridey's story was on sale before the facts were checked in Ireland.

SERIOUS SCIENTISTS don't work this way. They don't believe everything they hear either. They wonder why Dr. Bernstein was so quick to believe and publicize the fantastic tale of Bridey? Dr. Bernstein, they feel, should have at least hesitated in the face of some unexplainable "facts." For example, Bridey "lived" in the 1850's. Yet she tells of being married in a church not built until 1911.

CHRISTIANS TOO wonder about Bridey. They note that Bridey's reincarnation theory makes a shambles of the world picture painted by Christ. And they would rather shake their faith on Christ than on one novel experiment.

In the Christian view, a man is born into the world for a reason. He is to live for a while before returning to God. He's on trial. At death he is judged by what he has done, the good accomplished, the evil committed. God regards the good man with a face to face vision of Himself. The evil man is punished by being deprived of the vision of God.

The Christian has a good reason for leading a decent life. He will earn him eternal life. But how about Bridey's world?

When Bridey died she was doomed to stand by a bedside, neither really in or out of the world. She didn't love; she felt nothing in fact. There was no God in Bridey's after life. One wonders why she was born at all.

THIS IS WHY the search for Bridey Murphy will have to go its well-publicized way without the help of good scientists or Christians. The trail may be interesting, they admit, but it doesn't lead anywhere.

Actually neither scientist nor Christian is angry. They are disappointed. Scientists are pleased in the popularity of a scientific question: Christians are encouraged by the interest in the future life. But both wish it was the "real thing" which was selling and not just a novelty.

To Obtain Birth Certificates

Need a birth certificate? If you are having trouble in getting it, apply to the Division of Health, which is dealing with applications for birth certificates as schools and the parents of 100,000 beginners, ready to start school, are urged to verify age by certificate.

According to the ruling of the general office, the photostatic copy sent to the school soon after the birth of the child is acceptable. It has been provided that the parents of the county register the state number in the right-hand corner. The photostatic copy now, if it can't find it, or if it is not the required notation at once for a certified copy of the birth certificate. A certified copy may be obtained from the Div. of Vital Statistics for $1.00.

When applying for a birth certificate, the time for opening the file is nearer, will be in securing it. For 500 applications, the Vital Statistics office is now depending upon how long the "searchers" to find the original records filed along with 4,000,000 others in the "room."

To fail to furnish adequate information with the application spells delay. Approximately 20 percent of the requests coming to the Vital Statistics office are filled because of insufficient information, or failure to enclose the $1.00 required for certified copy.

When applying for a certified copy of a birth certificate, the following must be furnished: (1) name of child; (2) date of birth; (3) names of parents. Records are filed by years and unless this information is furnished, the original cannot be located. There's a word of warning to citizens who do not have birth certificates and will be needing them within the next few months. Better apply at once, for applications are processed in the order received and soon the school rush will be on.

By September the requests will be piling up by the hundreds, only to be tied in neat bundles each day. Filed away in order of date received, the bundles will be kept in a locked cabinet until the bogged down "searchers" can get to them.

For how long? Well, suppose half of the beginner school children can't find the plain photostatic copy and never have gotten a certified copy. Using the outside estimate of 500 applications processed a day, it would take 100 days to take care of the beginner children alone. One hundred days - or three months!

A SAFE AND SANE VACATION

Vacation travel is big business these days. Our vast network of highways is dotted with vacationers exploring the countryside and seeing America. But for many, the slogan that started out as "See America First," turns out to be, "See America Die." You can help stop this mass suicide. It's simple. YOU can REFUSE to be a part of it. The formula for a safe trip doesn't cost a thing. Plan your journey ahead of time... allow plenty of time for leisurely driving... Pack safely... stay alert every minute you're on the road... obey all traffic laws and the dictates of common sense and courtesy. That's it. If you follow it, you'll have a safe, sane and enjoyable vacation. One that won't cost you your life.

Seems as though it will be sometime before this old weather will get back to normal. Squally weather each afternoon has been giving fishermen fits. The thunder showers of Saturday and Sunday were tough on those out on the water. Naturally the fish were affected also.

In spite of the weather Sunday afternoon Alden Mauffray and Joe Kern caught 57 speckles. Half Moon.

Harry Daniels and son caught 40 speckles one day last week at 9 Mile Bayou, while fishing with Ed Orte and Capt. Bill Dowie and Bill, Jr. They made the trip on the Etro. They fished all day Tuesday before catching one fish. That's fishing for you, Harry.

James L. McCarthy says he has been too busy working on his home on Felicity St. to do much of anything, much less fishing. Won't be long now however, before he'll be after 'em.

Herbert Wise has joined the local golfers sporting a new golf buggy. Herb is shown with his two grandsons, Eric and Gerry, as chauffeurs. Herb says it makes walking a pleasure and golfing more enjoyable.

Ray Hoffman, another of those busy New Orleans men, relaxed Sunday afternoon while fishing up Jordan River. He caught a couple of fish but said they were too fast for him. Better luck next time, Ray!

Teddy Stechmann has been bragging about the 3 lb. green trout he caught Sunday. Don't blame you Teddy, they have been scarce of late!

Dave Ladner bridge tender on the Highway Bridge says they are catching some fish from the bridge. Shiners are plentiful and a few mackerel are being caught.

Gordon Romanoff reported that he caught 11 nice flounders along the R. R. bridge last week. Gordon was dragging along the bottom with dead bait. For those who don't know, give this kind of fishing a try. It pays off.

The above picture shows Darrell L. Favre with the load of catfish caught up Jordan River last week. The largest weighed 13 and 3/4 lbs. He had 17 altogether.

SHOWER FOR BRIDE-ELECT

Miss Mary Alice Heitzmann, whose wedding to Mr. Wayne Davis will be an interesting event of the season, was fete Monday evening at the home of her aunt, Mrs. George Heitzmann, deMonte-luin Avenue, with a miscellaneous shower. Cohosting the party was another aunt, Mrs. Owen Heitzmann.

Pink and white colors were used in decorations and in floral arrangements, and carried out in the pretty party refreshments. Arrangements of pink and white blooms were placed throughout the home, with the dining table holding a crystal punch bowl, containing pink punch and petit fours of white with pink rosebud trim.

Miss Heitzmann, who chose for the occasion a tulle-trimmed frock of white linen fashioned on sheath lines, was presented a corsage quite unique, consisting of miniature kitchen implements tied with satin ribbons. Her mother, Mrs. Albert Heitzmann, Jr., received a corsage of pink and white carnations.

About thirty guests were present, and the lovely gifts for the attractive bride-elect were placed in a "Wishing Well" festooned with pink and white crepe paper, and decorated with flowers and greenery.

Bus Drivers Training Schools To Be Held In Hancock

On August 28 for white drivers, Bus Drivers Training Schools will be held in Hancock County. Schools will be under the direction of the county Superintendent of Education, L. E. Breland, and will be taught by an instructor who has had special training in School Bus Driver Education. The instructor will be provided by the State Department of Education and will be assisted by a member of the Mississippi Highway Patrol.

Each bus driver is required to have a driver's license and a bus driver's certificate certifying that he has completed the training course. All drivers are required to take the course every two years. Each driver must meet certain physical requirements; he must have the use of both hands and feet and must pass a standard eye test.

The course includes general information concerning State Laws, the rules of the road and methods of protecting the children. The driving test includes open road driving, loading and unloading children and seeing them safely across the highway.

Obstacle driving is also required for the purpose of determining whether or not the driver can handle his bus under difficult conditions. The driver is also taught to protect and conserve his equipment, which includes checking of oil, water, tires, braking system, and cleaning both front and rear glasses daily.

The safety of the children is the main purpose of the school and the primary problem in the transportation of the children each day in getting them across the highway to and from the bus. Each bus, under our Mississippi Law is required to have a safety boy who is trained in directing the children safely across the road. Each bus driver is taught the method of training the safety boys so thoroughly that he, in turn, can teach his own safety boy.

MUST WE GO TO CHURCH TO BE CHRISTIANS?

You've probably heard people comment at times on the fact that their Catholic neighbors go to church so often. Perhaps you have wondered yourself... is all this necessary?

Catholics, you may be sure, have good reasons.

Going to Mass on Sunday is, of course, an obligation for every Catholic. Confession and Holy Communion at least once a year are a sacred duty. But most Catholics go to church and receive Holy Communion often... some every month, some every week, some every day.

There are also many other special services and devotions for which Catholics go to church. In the average city, the Catholic Church is always open—and seldom empty. Many will enter the church at any hour of the day to visit Jesus Christ present on the altar, mindful of His invitation: "Come to Me, all you who labor and are burdened, and I will give you rest."

Catholics believe that Christ not only called upon us to honor and serve God... but prescribed the ways in which we should do so. He did not say how often we must go to church... nor how many prayers we were to recite. But He did establish a Church with the power and authority to carry on His work... and He promised that His Church would last to the end of time—that it would have God's protection in reaching all men to observe all things He had commanded, especially to believe and to be baptized and thereby become members of His Church to attain the purpose of their lives.

And how do Catholics know theirs is Christ's Church? Because it possesses the distinguishing marks Christ gave His Church. It covers the earth as Christ said it would. Unchanged after nearly 2,000 years, it continues to live and grow, in fulfillment of His promise that His Church would last to the end of the world.

But the most convincing mark that He gave it is its unity of faith, worship and obedience under the authority of the lawful and historical successor of Peter, the first Bishop of Rome and the "rock" upon which Christ built His Church. Just as Peter was the first Pope and the first Vicar of Christ, so also is Pius XII the 26th Pope and the Vicar of Christ today.

If you would like to know more about the distinguishing characteristics which Christ declared His Church must have and which the Catholic Church possesses today, we will be glad to send you, in a plain wrapper, without cost or obligation, an interesting and enlightening pamphlet. And nobody will call on you. Write today for Pamphlet KC-2.

2,242 Telephones Now
In Use In Bay Area

A City and Service Grow Up Together. During recent years the number of telephones served from the Bay St. Louis telephone exchange have increased substantially. J. C. Dabney, manager of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company announced today, January 1st, 1940 there were 506 telephones in this exchange as compared with 2,242 today. An increase of well over 300% in this period.

To provide service to all these new subscribers has required large amounts of new capital. Major additions have been made both in switching equipment and outside plant to keep pace with the increased demand for new telephones and better grade of service.

One of the major contributions to more valuable telephone service and to the future growth and prosperity of Bay St. Louis and the Coast was the inauguration of toll free service from Bay St. Louis to Pass Christian.

Present plans include the provision of a new dial telephone exchange to be constructed at the corner of St. Francis and St. John Streets. The total cost of converting Bay St. Louis Exchange to dial is $300,000. That such large sums have been and will be invested in telephone equipment for Bay St. Louis is evidence of the confidence Southern Bell has in the future development of our city. Mr. Dabney said. In this way a service and a city grows together.

MISSISSIPPI FARM EVENT
BOOMS NEW CROPS

State farm leaders held a Fruit and Vegetable Field day in a movement toward greater diversification of Mississippi farm crops. More than sixty farmers and agricultural leaders attended the field day and learned about breeding, variety testing, disease control and other research being conducted at the Mississippi Agricultural Experiment Station. Chesley Hines, Horticulturist of the Agricultural Extension Service, said the market situation favors increased production of peaches, strawberries and several vegetable crops. "The excellent peach crop in certain areas of the state is moving at very satisfactory rates."

Six New Oil Fields
Are Found In Mississippi
In First Half of 1936

Jackson, Miss. (Special)—Six new oil fields, one new gas field, and one shallow Salt Dome were discovered in Mississippi during the first six months of 1936, bringing the total of oil and gas producing fields in the state to one hundred and eighteen, according to figures released by the Mississippi-Alabama Division of the Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association.

The new discoveries are the South Kingston and Southeast Ellisville Fields in Adams County, the Ansley Field in Hancock County, North Fayette Field and Rodney Island Field in Jefferson County, the Fort Adams Field in Wilkinson County, the Okolona Gas Field in Monroe County, and the Wesson Salt Dome in Copiah County.

The new discoveries are the result of eighty-three wildcat drilling attempts made in the state the first six months of 1936. Three-fourths of these were drilled in Adams, Wilkinson, and Jefferson Counties.

The discovery of the Ansley Field in Hancock County less than five miles from Mississippi Gulf Coast waters is a significant development this year, as it focuses attention to the possibility of production being found offshore lands. About one-third of the off-shore area of 900,000 acres is now under lease, and the State Mineral Lease Commission is expected to offer the remainder for lease sometime this year.

During the first half of the year a combined total of 215 wildcat and development wells were drilled, compared to a total of 225 for the same period of last year. Sixty-six of the wells were completed for oil and seventeen for gas, with 132 recorded as dry holes.

For a comparable period last year 82 wells had been completed for oil and ten for gas, with 143 listed as dry holes. Mississippi's 118 producing oil fields, located in twenty-nine state counties, were found after extensive leasing activity and scientific exploration. For more and more, oil exploration has been depending on technical aids. Geophysical surveys of possible oil producing areas were made by oil crews using the seismograph, gravity meter, magnetometer or core drill. The results of these surveys were studied and correlated with information gathered about nearby areas, and were compared to findings about formations where oil had already been found.

Using all gathered information to the best of their knowledge, geologists and geophysicists then selected a wildcat drilling site they believed would lead to the discovery of a new oil producing field. Finally, drilling equipment was moved to the drilling site and drilling crews began a sub-surface adventure that took them to a depth of from one to two miles. Whether they would find oil was a question that could only be answered, at last, by drilling. Oil men in the state did find oil in the first half of 1936, six new oil fields, a gas field, and a shallow salt dome out of eighty-three wildcat drilling tries. One exploratory well in every ten drilled led to a new discovery.

isfactory prices, but the demand in most areas is greater than the supply of high quality fruit," he said.

For many years Mississippi State was for men only, but in 1930 it was opened to women students. Since that time co-eds have been coming to State in ever-increasing numbers, many of them to take courses not available elsewhere.

Oil Drilling Costs
Are Greatly Increased
By Dry Hole Ratio

Jackson, Miss. (Special)—Only one new producing oil or gas well was found in the state during the first six months of 1936, according to figures released by the Mississippi-Alabama division of the Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association.

With this ratio of one wildcat well in ten finding commercial oil or gas production, a new discovery in Mississippi must provide a return that will bear the additional cost of drilling nine dry wells before becoming profitable. Using the average cost of $80,000 needed to drill one oil well in the state, this amounts to $720,000.

"But in addition to this risk," E. D. (Doug) Kennan, Executive Vice-President of the Association said, "Many of Mississippi's oil fields are small discoveries. Of the state's 118 fields, fifty-four have yielded only one to five producing wells."

According to Association figures, the cost of drilling the wildcat oil well in Mississippi varies from $20,000 and $200,000.

In the southwestern counties of the state, where much wildcat activity is concentrated, extremely shallow exploratory wells that prove to be dry holes cost from $20,000 to $30,000. But in the Soso Field of Jasper, Jones and Smith Counties, and in the Bolton Field of Hinds County, drilling has been to a depth of 12,000 feet, through difficult formations, with a resulting drilling cost for a completed well up to $200,000. Deeper exploration would cost much more.

Between these two costs for wells is the expenditure for the average Mississippi wildcat well. This average wildcat venture is drilled to 6,700 feet and the cost of drilling is $80,000. But oil exploration and wildcat drilling is conducted, and money is invested, with the possibility of large discoveries. On the possibility of making a significant discovery oil men risk annually millions of dollars, though monetary return on individual investment is probably more uncertain than in any other industry.

Only because returns on investment are considerably larger than those from most industries will oil men assume the big risk found in oil well drilling. Statistics for the first six months of 1936 show that in Mississippi the chances of finding oil in any amount was one in every ten holes drilled.

JUNE BUSINESS INCORPORATIONS
BELOW YEAR-AGO LEVEL

The rate of new business incorporations in June dropped below that of the previous month, and for the second time this year, fell below the level of the corresponding 1935 month. The New concerns chartered during June numbered 11,932, a decline of 9.1 percent from 13,142 in May, and 5.2 percent from 10,605 in June a year ago. The June count at 11,932 was the smallest monthly total since last December. Despite the June recession the first six months of 1936 set a new all-time high with 76,287 new business formations for the period. This was 2.6 percent above the similar 1935 period with a total of 74,357.

INDUSTRY

Power—electric power—and industry go hand in hand. Without electricity there would be little, if any, industrial development.

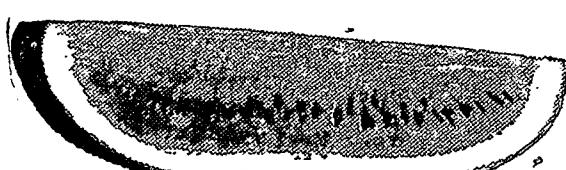

Our first job is to provide an ample supply of electricity, at reasonable rates, for all needs in the area we serve. We have done that and we are prepared to handle future requirements.

In addition to that, we have actively participated in the industrial development of the area we serve and of the State. Our New Industries Department was organized in 1926 and is the oldest such department in the entire State. The members of that department spend full time on industrial development, working closely with local and state civic groups.

We will continue our efforts in both fields—the supplying of electricity and industrial development—so that Mississippi will continue to develop and prosper.

Highway Patrolmen To "Spot Check" Trucks For Safety Equip.

Commissioner of Public Safety Tom Scarborough Friday ordered highway patrolmen to "spot check" heavy trucks along state highways, and issue tickets to drivers whose vehicles fail to carry proper safety equipment.

In ordering the crackdown, Commissioner Scarborough called attention to the high frequency of truck-auto accidents in recent weeks.

"We have entirely too many stalled trucks involved in accidents, and investigating patrolmen report that in several instances these trucks failed to display adequate safety equipment, flares, and such," the Patrol head stated.

"There have been cases at night where no flares at all were set out," Scarborough continued. "This must not happen!"

Bill Hood, new chief of the Highway Patrol and assistant commissioner, joined with Scarborough in ordering the safety check on truck equipment, and as his first bulletin to traffic enforcement personnel called for inspections of trucks and buses "for lights, brakes and safety equipment, with special emphasis on flares and flags."

Chief Hood's order added: "Write tickets when you deem it necessary. Trucks have been making the headlines recently in regard to multiple fatality accidents. I believe that it is our turn to make headlines by reducing our fatalities."

Both the Commissioner and the Patrol Chief stressed that trucks alone are by no means responsible for the staggering increase in traffic accidents. However, the increasing frequency of stalled trucks being hit at night by automobiles cannot be overlooked, the two patrol officials pointed out.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

STATE OF MISSISSIPPI
COUNTY OF HANCOCK

Notice is hereby given that the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Mississippi, will receive sealed bids until 9:00 o'clock A. M., Monday, August 13th, 1956, for furnishing to said County the following, to-wit:

One - 1/2 Ton Pick-Up Truck with Standard Transmission.

The Board reserves the right to reject any and all bids.

Colmer Leads Skirmish But Wins Battle

Washington, D. C., July 25 (UPI)—Rep. William M. Colmer today led the "lost of Dixie" for his leadership in the House civil rights battle, a battle which he and his southern colleagues lost to win a bigger one.

The House Monday passed the punitive civil rights measure that has been in the legislative mill for more than a year. But the Dixiecrat victory in the lower body was a hollow one, thanks to the parliamentary genius of Colmer and the floor leaders of his unofficial House "Committee of 78."

The Colmer-led strategy delayed House action on so-called civil rights until the closing days of Congress. Now it's too late for the prolonged Senate debate that would be sure to come if the upper body should consider the legislation at this session.

WILL DIE IN SENATE

There was, of course, never any doubt that if the bill should reach a final roll call, it would pass. During this election year, both northern Democrats and Republicans are competing for Negro votes in key states, such as New York, Pennsylvania and California. The 279,126 vote by which the legislation passed the House is proof conclusive that congressmen of both major parties joined in sending out the "vote bait" to the Negroes—a major objective of all so-called civil rights measures.

It was thus with scant hope of preventing House passage that Colmer organized a steering committee of the "Committee of 78" last January. His major objective was to delay floor action until near the end of the session, thus rendering an assist to Dixie Senate leaders in their efforts to kill the legislation in the upper body.

He and his southern colleagues who have fought hard for more than six months against legislation to create a Civil Rights Division in the Justice Department, with get-out-the-vote powers, achieved the objective they set.

Regards, Slim Suttle.

COUNTY AGENT'S NOTES

BY HOWARD P. SIMMONS
Hancock County Agent

Crop conditions generally are excellent for another good crop year. Rainfall in most cases has been ample, but the final outcome on production and yields will be largely determined by rainfall and moisture conditions within the next 60 days or so.

Farm prices are looking up. Prices received by farmers are about 9 percent above last December.

Prices paid by farmers are still trending upward, but at a slower rate than in the past—and at a slower pace than the upward swing in prices received.

The parity ratio is up 6 percent since last December.

Cattle slaughter so far this year has been considerably above last year. Sales of cattle off grass will increase this summer and fall, with price decline. Prices of fed cattle early as pastures begin to fall—market may be flooded later.

Hog slaughter will pick up seasonably, beginning late this month or in early August, with prices easing off some. Following the fall rush, marketings should drop and prices rise.

Spring pigs totaled 8 percent less this year than last, so fall marketing will be less than last fall. There will be around 7 percent less pigs farrowed this fall than last. This should mean higher prices next year.

Dairy production is up compared to a year ago. Increased demand and higher prices should hold up well the balance of the year. Cash receipts from dairymen are running well above last year.

A record carry-over of feed grains is in prospect—10 percent above last year. With good prospects for production of feed grains this year another big supply will be on hand for the 1956-57 feeding year. This could mean lower cost feed.

Cotton production prospects appear about as last year.

It may pay you to sell early-harvested cotton of best quality, then put the rest in the loan. Prices may work down to support levels or lower soon after harvest begins.

Later in the season, larger exports under the recently adopted export program might help improve the price situation later in the season.

"No person shall operate any truck or bus on any highway outside of any municipality or residential section adjacent thereto between the hours of one-half hour after sunset and one-half hour before sunrise unless there be carried in such vehicle, ready for use, certain warning and safety appliances such as flares, flags, reflectors, fire extinguishers, etc."

Mississippi law further authorizes inspection of motor vehicles at any time by Patrol officers to insure that safety provisions are complied with.

Start Training School For Highway Patrolman-Recruits

The Mississippi Highway Safety Patrol started its training school for patrolman-recruits Monday, July 30, with 47 applicants registered for the month-long training program.

These 47 men, according to Chief of Patrol Bill Hood, represent the "cream of the crop" of the more than 200 applicants examined by the Patrol since preparation for the school was begun several weeks ago. All have passed rigid mental and physical examinations. Each has been carefully investigated as to family background, character and standing in the community.

The past of each man applying for a Patrol post is closely scrutinized by Patrol investigators. Failure to pay bills promptly has been known to keep more than one applicant from "making the grade" on the Highway Patrol.

Not only are the background and credit ratings of applicants checked, all must be fingerprinted and these prints cleared with the Federal Bureau of Investigation. In almost every school held by the Patrol, at least one applicant is found during the exhaustive preliminary investigation to have a criminal record. A Patrol spokesman discloses that the present group was no exception.

All investigations are confidential, however, and all data gathered becomes part of a permanent file kept on applicants.

According to Commissioner of Public Safety Tom Scarborough, any person over 25 years of age may apply at any time with the Department of Public Safety for a post as patrolman. Application may be made in person at Patrol Headquarters, Jackson, or by mail. A written application must be submitted.

This application goes on file at Highway Patrol Headquarters, the nucleus of the permanent file which remains with the man as long as he is associated with the Patrol.

"Everything—the good and the bad—goes into this file," emphasized Chief Hood.

Some three months prior to the start of a Patrol training school, all active applications are pulled, and examinations set up. Applicants are first notified to report for their aptitude and temperament tests. Two are given. These are graded carefully and at this point the deletion of ineligible begins.

The Highway Patrol "IQ" tests have been described as unusually hard, and standards (passing grades) are kept high. A large percentage of Patrol applicants fail to satisfactorily complete these examinations.

Those who do are only part way along the road toward becoming Patrolmen. The "family background, character" investigations are yet to come.

Again the list grows shorter. Those men who are considered good "Patrol material" following their investigation are then called to Jackson for physical examinations. Many fail to meet weight and height requirements. Some are rejected for other disabilities. At each stage of screening, men go on the ineligible list, some on the eligible.

Acceptance into the school, however, does not insure an applicant of a patrol position later. School directors report that some 5 or 6 men fail to complete almost every school held. Some who are accepted never report for registration, and two or three recruits normally drop out at the end of the first week.

The school itself is tough, lasting a minimum of 30 days. No pay is given recruits and they must provide their own khaki uniforms and toilet articles.

The Patrol does not even promise the men who satisfactorily complete the school a job immediately. Some may be placed on a reserve list.

During the forthcoming Patrol School men will be quartered at the Mississippi Military District and fed at the Airbase Grill. Most of their classes will be held at District classrooms; in fact, applicants can call the Miss. Military District "Home Sweet Home" during August, according to Commissioner Scarborough.

Recruits attending the school reported to Patrol Headquarters at Jackson at 2 p. m. Sunday, July 29, for registration.

American Legion AUXILIARY NOTES

Enrollment of members for a new year of the American Legion Auxiliary Unit 139 has begun. Mrs. Gordon Romanoff, president of the local unit, announced today.

"Because of the increasing need for the type of work carried on by the Auxiliary, increased enrollment will be sought for 1957," Mrs. Romanoff said. Invitations to come into the Auxiliary will be extended to women of war service families throughout the county during an extensive membership effort.

Wives, mothers, sisters and daughters of members of the American Legion and those of persons who gave their lives in the World Wars or the Korean conflict, or who have died since honorable discharge from war services, are eligible for membership in the Auxiliary.

Co-Chairman of the Membership drive are Mrs. Roger Reinike and Mrs. John Weathers.

LIBRARY STORY HOUR

Mrs. Willard Gavagnie assisted with the Library Story Hour this past week.

The junior members of the American Legion Auxiliary presented the colors and led the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag.

The story of Raggedy Ann's Surprise Party was read along with several others. Some songs were sung and a review of the alphabet and days and months of the year, Mrs. Russell Elliott reported.

LAMB AND SHEEP PRODUCTION INCREASINGLY PROFITABLE

Mississippi lamb and sheep raising is becoming an increasing factor in state farm prosperity, with more than $335,000 already realized this year through the sale of 89 cars of lambs shipped to markets in the East. Lamb production represents a welcome source of new income for many state growers, especially in the Delta area which is recognized as Mississippi's thriving sheep center. An important factor in this thriving money crop is the excellent research work being done by the Mississippi Experiment Station system in both external and internal parasite control. State Extension efforts have also taught Mississippians custom shearing and techniques.

Both industry and government agencies are looking for trained biologists and botanists. All graduates in these fields turned out by Mississippi State College in recent years have found jobs waiting for them upon graduation. A college degree from Mississippi State can be the key to a successful future.

NEW SOUTHERN BELL RATES PLACED IN EFFECT IN MISSISSIPPI

In Accordance With State Law

To more nearly reflect present day costs of furnishing telephone service, this Company on June 25, 1956, filed a new schedule of intrastate rates and charges with the Mississippi Public Service Commission under the provisions of the state statutes. As provided for by the law, this new schedule was placed into effect on July 26, 1956, under bond pending the determination by the Commission of the Company's full revenue requirements.

The revised rates involve an increase in the charges for local telephone service and a revision of long distance rates between points within Mississippi, resulting in increases in some long distance rates and reductions in other long distance rates.

Should rates different than those placed in effect on July 26 finally be determined to be the lawful rates, proper adjustments will be made on your telephone bill covering the difference between the rates actually paid and the rates determined to be the lawful rates.

Our aim has been to provide the best possible service at the lowest possible cost and that continues to be our policy.

STERLING-BIEHL WEDDING SATURDAY EVENING

The Main St. Methodist Church was the setting Saturday afternoon for one of the lovely mid-summer weddings when Miss Gloria Patricia Biehl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Biehl, Sr., became the bride of Mr. Sterling E. Sterling of Akron, Ohio, son of the late Mr. Sterling and Mrs. Abbie Sterling.

The marriage took place at 4:30 o'clock with Rev. Oliver Bufkin, former pastor officiating at the double ring ceremony. Majestic daisies, white gladioli and palms with lighted tapers held in tall standards adorned the chancel of the church.

Mr. Biehl gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a bridal gown fashioned of Tulle over taffeta, with the fitted bodice of chantilly lace. The long sleeves ended in graceful cathedral point over the hands, and the neckline and sleeve points were embroidered in seed pearls. Four lace panels were inserted in the full circular skirt, and a fingertip length veil of nylon illusion was attached to a fitted lace headpiece, embroidered with pearls. The bride carried a white bible to which was attached a bouquet of a white orchid and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. J. B. Goldman played the wedding music, and Mrs. Theodore Thomas sang, "At Dawning" and "The Wedding Prayer".

Miss Barbara Sterling, Morgantown, West Va., sister of the bridegroom, was Maid of Honor. She wore a lavender frock of all over lace and tulle, with a head piece fashioned of fresh miniature daisies and carried a bouquet of Majestic daisies.

Bridesmaids were Miss Sally Russ, Long Beach, and Miss Peggy Jenkins, Eunice, La. Both wore frocks matching in design that of the Maid of Honor. Miss Russ was in yellow and Miss Jenkins in blue. The little flower girl, Marie Therese Carr, wore a miniature frock of the design of the other bridal attendants, pink in color, and carried a miniature bouquet of daisies.

Alfred Tatum, Camp Leroy Johnson, New Orleans was best man to the bridegroom. Groomsman included, Albert Biehl, Jr., brother of the bride, and George K. Carr. Ushers were Owen Biehl, nephew of the bride, Gene and Leo Roos, New Orleans.

Immediately following the church service, a reception was held at the Reed Hotel. Mrs. Biehl received with the bridal party, assisted by Mrs. Sterling, mother of the bridegroom. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Biehl selected an afternoon gown of mauve colored lace over pink tulle. The costume was completed with white accessories and a shoulder corsage of carnations and tea roses. Mrs. Sterling wore blue lace, with white accessories, and corsage matching the one worn by Mrs. Biehl.

A cut work embroidered linen cloth covered the bride's table, which was centered with a beautiful wedding cake of three tiers, adorned with wedding bells, love birds, and fresh roses and fleur d'amour. Silver candelabra held white lighted tapers. Mrs. John Dambino cut the cake.

The young couple left by motor on a wedding trip. For traveling the bride wore a white linen sheath with small blue figured design, powder blue duster, navy hat and accessories and the orchid from her bouquet. The destination of the couple was unknown. They will make their home in Akron, where Mr. Sterling is employed by the Roadway Express Co.

The bride was a graduate of Bay High School here, Miss Southern College, and the Holy Dieu School of Nursing.

Rev. Charles Johnson with group of young people from Christ Episcopal Church, returned Saturday following a week spent at the Episcopal Youth Camp Conference at Way, Miss.

The wedding took place at 3:00 o'clock with the Reverend Schuyler Batson officiating at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, who makes her home with her mother in Slidell, was given in marriage by her grandfather, Police Chief Alcino Sautier.

She was lovely in a summery frock of frosted pale pink nylon, fashioned on girlish lines, with full circular skirt and fitted bodice, waltz length. A white hat and white accessories, with a shoulder corsage of white gladioli completed the bride's ensemble.

As her only attendant, the bride selected Miss Barbara Heitzmann, who wore an aqua colored summer dress, complimented with white hat and accessories and a corsage of peach colored gladioli.

David Rushing, Pearl River, stood as best man to the bridegroom.

Immediately following the church service, a reception was held at the home of Mr. Saucier for members of the immediate families with his daughter, Mrs. Shirley Turcotte, acting as hostess.

Mrs. Turcotte chose for her niece's wedding a dress of pink nylon, made on fashionable sheath lines, and wore a white hat and white accessories. She also cut the cake.

The house was decorated with artistic arrangements of white gladioli, chrysanthemums, and greenery. The bride's table was very attractive with a four tiered wedding cake, adorned in traditional manner, centering the table which was laid with a fine damask linen cloth, with white flowers and traceries of ferns gracefully trailing around the table.

The young couple will make their home in Slidell where they have an apartment.

DICKINSON-GEX NUPTIALS SATURDAY MORNING

Of interest here and on the Gulf Coast, was the marriage Saturday of Miss Patricia Ann Gex daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lucien Marion Gex, Sr., Bay St. Louis, to Mr. Charles Bayne Dickinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Franklin Dickinson, of Griffin, Ga.

The wedding took place at ten o'clock in the morning at the Church of Our Lady of the Gulf, at a Nuptial Mass with Reverend Msgr. Michael McCarthy, officiating.

White asters and white gladioli were used in profusion in decorating the church, and were arranged in tall gold vases on the Altar. Alternating baskets of the flowers and palms were placed down the aisles at the pews.

During the ceremony "Panis Angelicus," "Oh Lord I Am Not Worthy," and Gounod's "Ave Maria" were sung by Miss Billie Gene Burns, Birmingham, Ala., a close friend of the bride.

The bride was radiant as she entered the church on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage at the double ring ceremony.

She was gowned in an exquisite wedding creation fashioned of illusion and imported chantilly lace. The snugly fitted bodice, had small sleeves of lace, and a sweetheart neckline. The billowing illusion skirt featured diagonal inserts of broad bands of lace, and flowed into a sweeping cathedral train. A veil of illusion was attached to a lace headpiece, made with open crown outlined with several rows of seed pearls. An heirloom handkerchief of handmade lace, carried by her maternal grandmother, Mrs. W. W. Calhoun, Sr., on her wedding day, was used by the bride, and her bouquet was centered with an exquisite white orchid with sprays of phalaenopsis orchids forming cascades.

Miss Joy Starita, formerly of Bay St. Louis, now residing in New Orleans, was Maid of Honor, Mrs. Guy Billups, Jr., a cousin, Matron of Honor, and Miss Gail Ellison, Birmingham, bridesmaid.

They were charmingly gowned in imported embroidered organza over undress of canary yellow tulle. The portrait necklines of the frocks featured large back bows with tie ends falling to the waltz length hemlines of the dresses. Waists were fitted and skirts were swirling. Large picture hats, with open crowns, made of pale yellow maline completed the pretty pictures the girls made. They carried cascade bouquets of pale yellow feathered carnations and deep green ivy.

John Dickinson, Jr., served as best man to his brother. Other attendants to the bridegroom were Mr. Lucien Gex, Jr., and Mr. Gerald Gex, brothers of the bride. Ushers were Mr. John Calhoun, New Orleans, Mr. Hartwell Gex and Mr. Milton Phillips, all cousins of the bride and Mr. Marion Wolfe, Jr., New Orleans.

The bride's mother, who was the former Miss Geraldine Calhoun of New Orleans, selected for her daughter's wedding, a gown of ice blue silk linen worn with a picture hat of white straw trimmed with blue illusion matching the color of the gown. Her accessories were white, and she wore a corsage of white orchids.

Mrs. Dickinson, mother of the bridegroom, wore a suit of beige colored pure silk, white hat and accessories and white orchid corsage completed the lovely ensemble. She was the former Miss Olive Bayne of Georgia.

Immediately following the church service a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents on North Beach Blvd. The parents of the young couple assisted the bridal party in receiving the guests.

Profusion of white flowers adorned the spacious reception rooms of the home, and the bride's table was exquisite with a four tiered wedding cake centered on a handsome imported cloth.

The young couple left for a wedding trip and will make their home in the suburbs of Philadelphia, Pa.

For traveling the bride wore a shell pink silk linen dress made on princess lines, with bustle back drape. A small white linen collar with self covered white linen buttons down the front of the dress completed the trim. A small hat of shell pink, white accessories and a white orchid completed the costume.

Out of town guests for the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. John Franklin Dickinson, Griffin, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. William W. Calhoun, Galveston, Texas; Mrs. W. W. Calhoun, Sr., Miss Gertrude Calhoun, and Mrs. Cory Calhoun, Mrs. W. Hart Brundage, Mr. and Mrs. John Jackson, New Orleans, and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Morris, Long Island, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Billups, Sr., of Greenwood, had as their guests aboard their yacht, the Nemo II, Dr. and Mrs. Virgil Payne and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Barnett of Pine Bluff, Ark. The boat docked for about a week in Gulfport harbor, and the group joined Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gex, Jr., in Bay St. Louis, as house guests. They attended the wedding Saturday of Miss Patricia Gex and Mr. Charles Dickinson. Sunday the Billups hosted a fishing party aboard the yacht, in addition to the Arkansas guests, the group included Dr. and Mrs. H. A. Eldredge, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gex, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Carter. A fine catch of mackerel was made by the fishermen.
